THE MISSION

The Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly endeavors to serve as a forum to inspire, educate and challenge members on Fraternity and women's issues; to rekindle, sustain and excite member loyalty and interest through celebrating sisterhood and recognizing individual and chapter/club accomplishments; to serve as a permanent record and archive of the Fraternity.

PRODUCTION NOTES

The Quarterly is published four times per year by the Alpha Gamma Delta International Fraternity and is created by its in-house Communications and Marketing Team. Two printed issues are distributed by mail and two digital issues are distributed by email. Submission deadlines are the first day of September, November, February and May. Questions and feedback may be sent to quarterly@alphagammadelta.org.

International President's Viewpoint

On a recent walk, I listened to a podcast featuring Tina VanSteenbergen, Beta Omicron—Illinois State University. While I'm usually not one to listen to things multiple times, I've found myself going back to it. As Alpha Gam continues to navigate sisterhood in a virtual environment, I keep thinking about Tina's words:

"I believe women need women. I believe every single woman in the world, regardless of her background, deserves sisterhood. Passionate, fierce friendships with other women. We can create those experiences if we take some of the traditions and expectations out of it and just invest in the real reason people join—relationships. The reason people stay, the reason these organizations change people's lives—it's the people...And if we start talking about the experience like that, I think it would lower barriers. Let's stop selling 'sorority' and start inviting people into our sisterhood. How many more women would want to join that?"

I believe this represents both Alpha Gam's beginning and its future. Alpha Gamma Delta was founded as women started enrolling in college at a significantly higher rate. While widely unwelcome, the need for support—for women, by women—was brought to the forefront for the first time.

As I think about the challenges we are currently facing—the pandemic, political discord, natural disasters, racial injustice—that same need for belonging, support and sisterhood is as strong as ever. And, as I look across Alpha Gam, I see how we are rising to meet those needs.

When Primary Recruitment turned mostly virtual this fall, our collegiate sisters embraced the challenge and focused on making connections. No elaborate decorations or hours of practicing songs. And, while there were some new challenges, our offer of sisterhood and belonging was accepted by many new sisters.

We've also been considering ways to lower barriers to membership. This fall, we decreased Initiation Fees and are reviewing policies surrounding recruitment, such as legacy policy and recommendation letters. When the pandemic limited in-person gathering, we recognized the need for belonging is still critical. Staff and volunteers worked with collegiate chapters to manage expenses in order to maintain programming, engagement and sisterhood.

It should come as no surprise the Fraternity has experienced lost of revenue related to COVID-19. We've made difficult budget decisions in order to keep member services from being impacted. This included reallocating the cost of printing and mailing the Quarterly this fiscal year. Distributing our magazine digitally only allows us to focus our resources on supporting the member experience across the ages and stages of our sisterhood.

The FHC has nurtured community by focusing on the safety of our members who live in FHC facilities. No two campus situations are alike, but their care and concern for maintaining a safe place for sisterhood is evident.

The Foundation continues to focus on how to support our sisters during a time when fundraising is a challenge but need is at an all-time high. Read more about this on page 14.

I won't lie—2020 has brought many challenges for our Fraternity. But within those challenges comes a reminder to get back to the basics, to find ways to support one another, to focus on relationships—to focus on sisterhood.

Loyally in epsilon pi,

a quick note FROM THE EDITOR

We inadvertently reported the passing of Julie Wenell Greiner, Rho—Iowa State University; however, we are happy to report she is alive and well in Illinois! Also, Carol Mignonette Wilson Flagg, Epsilon Zeta—Arkansas State University was incorrectly listed as Flagg-McNabb.

It's never fun to find out we've made a mistake, but it feels even worse when it happens in Chapter Grand.

Our sincerest apologies go out to their friends and families.

Also, you may notice Collegiate Reports are not included in this issue. As the most popular section of the magazine, it is receiving a much-needed makeover to maximize the info we present to you. We are excited for you to see some of these changes in the upcoming Winter issue.

FAVORITE PART ABOUT VOLUNTEERING FOR ALPHA GAM

Empowering and supporting other members to pursue their passions—especially collegians—as they grow into leaders is my favorite part of advising. The most personally rewarding moment for me was when IHQ officially endorsed the LGBTQIA+ Alpha Gam Affinity group I co-founded in 2014 (with my chapter sister Chloe Secor) to provide a secure, supportive space for Alpha Gams who identify as LGBTQIA+. We still have far to go, but this monumental step has impacted many members in a positive way.

INITIATION Inspiration

Cheers were heard around the world (or at least the internet) when International Council recently announced a long-awaited change to the Fraternity's guidelines for Initiation attire.

While pants are now permitted, all attire should reflect the reverence of the occasion.

Collegians should wear white, off-white or cream dress or pants outfit. Attire should be neatly pressed and tailored to fit as needed. Denim, shorts, athletic wear, leggings, distressed materials, lycra/spandex, cargo pants, miniskirts, casual sandals, loafers, boots and flip flops are not permitted. In addition to shades of white, alumnae may opt to wear a pale pastel color. We've put together some looks to inspire your next Initiation style.

The impact ON IMPACT

An inside look at the Foundation's journey to contribute to the world's work despite a global pandemic.

it's evident that 2020 will be heralded as one of the most challenging years in Alpha Gamma Delta's 116-year history.

COVID-19 turned university campuses upside down and tossed lives into turmoil. The global pandemic illuminated simplicities we took for granted and threw them to the wind. Here's how the Alpha Gamma Delta Foundation responded, in real time, and how it's impacting our future.

WHAT WE HEARD

At the Academy for Collegiate Officers in February, we heard initial rumblings of something called corona virus. As nearly 600 collegiate members, volunteers and staff spent the weekend together, we had no idea the first U.S. case had already been diagnosed—or how much our lives would soon change.

Whispers began to swirl at International Headquarters on March 9 that COVID-19 was worsening at a rate with which healthcare professionals could no longer keep pace. At an all-staff meeting March 13, it was announced that all IHQ staff would be remote until April.

As "temporary" measures were implemented, we had no idea the impact the pandemic would have on the lives of our sisters and their families—or the Foundation itself. We had so many questions and absolutely no answers. "Planning ahead" became "from one day to the next." How can you care for sisters if you don't know what's coming?

"We knew there would be greater need for SIS Grants," said Foundation Executive Director Julie Waitman, Beta Beta—North Dakota State University. "What we didn't yet know was how long and how deeply the economy would be impacted—how much it would affect the need for scholarships, or how food insecurity would reach all-time emergency levels in our local communities."

As giving slowed and needs began to increase, questions loomed. How long will this last? Will we have enough funds to help people in their darkest hours?

WHAT WE KNEW

While IHQ's Fraternity Services Team already had several procedures in place to address emergency issues, the amount of manpower it took to handle the onslaught of collegiate chapter needs neared capacity. Likewise, the Fraternity Housing Corporation and local house associations had to manage ever-evolving risks related to communal living. Then, as campuses across the U.S. and Canada began to close in March, the FHC had to employ a rapid move-out plan for thousands of our collegiate sisters.

As more than 40 percent of the Foundation's mission is typically funded by contributions from collegiate and alumnae group philanthropic events, campus closures made it evident that our annual fundraising goals would not be reached. And, with Alpha Gam's annual Day of Giving—our largest individual fundraising activity—just around the corner, we had to second-guess a year's worth of planning and make a very difficult decision on if and how to move forward with the event.

"What we didn't yet know was how long and how deeply the economy would be impacted how much it would affect the need for scholarships, or how food insecurity would reach all-time emergency levels in our local communities."

“Food. Shelter. Medical needs. It doesn’t get any more basic than this. As the world ground to a halt, businesses closed. Jobs were lost which meant healthcare was gone. There is no greater call to action than to support the sisters we love and the communities where we live with our most basic needs,”

A DAY OF CARING

“To be honest, I was nervous when Julie first came to me about proceeding with the Day of Giving this year. As our members were in the throes of dealing with a wide range of economic and emotional issues surrounding the pandemic, I worried it would seem insensitive,” said Fraternity Executive Director Katie Jolley Abernathy, Delta Theta—University of Idaho. “Then Julie explained that sisters were telling us they wanted to help, and it could be a Day of Caring—something to bring us together in this time of uncertainty. I was fully on board.”

With the decision to move forward with a revised plan came a mad dash of logistical changes. The graphics, website, messaging, emails—everything planned for the last 11 months had to be revised from top to bottom. And there were only 48 hours to make it happen.

“Instead of simply encouraging members to care about the Foundation’s mission—and meeting the financial goals to make it happen—it was important we made the focus of the day about caring for one another,” said Julie.

The Commitment to Care was implemented as a way for members to commit to acts of kindness, such as calling five sisters or volunteering for a local cause. This gave all members the chance to participate in the day, even if they weren’t in the position to make a monetary gift.

A decision was also made to call attention to two of the Foundation’s greatest areas of focus and need—fighting hunger and sisters in need (SIS) grants.

“Food. Shelter. Medical needs. It doesn’t get any more basic than this. As the world ground to a halt, businesses closed. Jobs were lost which meant healthcare was gone. There is no greater call to action than to support the sisters we love and the communities where we live with our most basic needs,” said Julie.

It took long hours from Foundation board and staff, collaboration with IHQ staff members and countless phone calls, presentations and pitches, but Day of Caring was a success.

The shift from solely giving financial gifts to pausing to care about each other made the day even more impactful. We reached our revised monetary goal of $100,000, and—just as importantly—more than 100 members held kindness invaluable and signed the Commitment to Care.

THE IMPACT

■ SIS GRANTS: For nearly 40 years the Foundation has provided confidential, financial SIS Grants to members facing life-altering hardship. These grants can bridge the gap when members have exhausted all other resources and can no longer afford food, shelter or medical expenses.

Due to the pandemic and natural disasters across North America, we’ve seen a 28 percent increase in approved SIS Grant applications. The $88,700 awarded in 2019-2020 was almost double from the previous year. In fact, the fund was depleted three times as pandemic-related applications began to pour in. The need for help grew so rapidly, the Foundation Board of Trustees approved a revised application and timeline to remove barriers and help as many sisters as possible. With emergency needs still on the rise, we expect the need to continue for the unforeseeable future.

■ FIGHTING HUNGER: As the pandemic continues, basic needs of food must be met. Rates of food insecurity are substantially higher for single female heads of households with children. With donor help, the Foundation will award its one millionth dollar in fighting hunger support this fiscal year to organizations on the most local levels.

■ SCHOLARSHIPS: Our 150 scholarship recipients alone carry student debt totaling more than $2.6 million. The uncertainty and challenges brought by COVID-19 has never been higher for our members as they continue their educational journeys. In 2019–2020 the Foundation turned away 239 scholarship applicants due to lack of funding. The loss of jobs, internships and student teaching adds additional strain, not only to their educational journey, but the potential for added time in school with its additional cost. The need for scholarships will only rise.

■ ANNUAL FUND: The Annual Fund provides a wide variance of impact and is an absolute necessity to our organization. This fund ensures the most urgent and desperate needs are met. Unrestricted gifts made to the Annual Fund provide the Foundation flexibility to immediately disseminate funds to needs as they arise. It bridges the gap between the programs and support made possible from membership dues and the realities of sky-rocketing educational and leadership costs. This includes a commitment to fund the Fraternity's immediate need for a new learning management system to adapt to a virtual learning environment for professional and personal growth—including mental health resources.

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

It's hard to say exactly where we go from here. At some point offices will fully reopen, restaurants will return to full capacity, but we won't truly be back to where we were at the beginning of 2020.

If there is one clear takeaway that we can collectively grasp it is that while nothing is guaranteed, sisterhood prevails. Plans may change, completely fall apart or be rebuilt into something better than we could have imagined. Either way, our resiliency is not something to be taken lightly. We are working hand in hand with our strategic mission and re-evaluating daily how to best serve our sisters, but one thing is constant: Alpha Gams are unwavering, and nothing can stop us.

With two percent of our alumnae as donors, the Alpha Gamma Delta Foundation awarded nearly $1 million in scholarships and grants last fiscal year. Imagine what we could accomplish with 3 percent.

Visit alphagammadeltafoundation.org/donate to learn more about how you can help us transform lives, empower women, support one another and impact the world!

Home Safe Home

While businesses and organizations continue to readjust goals and priorities for 2020, finding a “new normal” seems like hunting for a moving target. For the Fraternity Housing Corporation, the impact of COVID-19 has been vast. As we continue to understand the lasting impact of COVID-19, the FHC finds joy in appreciating its members, local staff and employees who have evolved alongside them.

When collegiate members returned to their homes and families in March, the FHC staff began to plan for a safe fall return. Its staff met in virtual work groups to determine how to best support collegiate housing in the areas of communal sleeping, food service, cleaning standards and guest policies. As understanding of COVID-19 developed, the landscape of higher education and various local requirements for communal living changed daily. This required the FHC to be even more agile when meeting a variety of chapter needs.

The mission of the FHC is simple: provide collegiate housing that is safe, competitive, attractive, where members can make friendships to last a lifetime. Every day since March 9, that mission has been tested as safety—one of the key FHC pillars—was put to the test. How does sorority living take place in a world where members must stay six feet apart? What would fall move-in look like without the giggles and hugs shared between sisters who have been apart for months?

Just as the FHC adapted, so have collegiate members. Collegiate women have been forced to modify their lifestyles and behaviors to ensure the safety of themselves and others. The Safe On Purpose campaign was created to empower chapters to implement safety measures based on their location, facility and local guidelines.

Through the Safe on Purpose campaign, members were reminded part of their purpose as Alpha Gamma Delta women is to cherish friendships, which may look different in every season of life. Fewer hugs, closed bedrooms doors and virtual sisterhood events have replaced a large part of the social aspects of the social experience.

"COVID-19 has changed both my college and sorority experience. It has been stressful, emotional and difficult to navigate," said Rachel Foust, Delta—University of Minnesota. "Inevitably it is going to impact all of us in one way, shape or form, but I am so thankful to have sisters that have stood by me through it all!"

At the local level, the re-envisioned housing experience looks something like this: In the foyer, members and visitors are greeted by a hand sanitizer station and digital sign-in sheet. Once inside, members in common spaces wear masks. Dining rooms may see the biggest change—empty chairs. To put it simply, things are different.

FHC House Directors have also had their world turned upside-down. Providing a positive live-in experience in these conditions while balancing their own safety has been a challenge.

With state and campus regulations varying from campus to campus, each House Director must enact a different set of rules and practices. Many House Directors have said getting to know the women in their chapter is one of the most rewarding parts of their job, but most have had to forgo that in 2020 to work safely behind the scenes.

"The absence of the jovial laughter and constant revolving doors as people go in and out to attend activities of daily life is drastically muted," said Karen Travis, House Director at Beta Xi–Purdue University.

For chapters with meal service, Regional Culinary Manager Greg Ferris has worked to ensure they had a plan in motion to keep the dining room and meal service safe no matter the severity of COVID-19 in their community.

Prior to COVID-19, a traditional sorority house meal service included a buffet-style salad bar and entrée for both lunch and dinner. Now, where possible, chapter meal services have shifted to a served buffet, where meals are plated by kitchen staff and placed onto a table to be picked up from a safe distance. Where served buffets are not possible, chapters have shifted to to-go dining options. In this scenario, meals are packaged into reusable containers and eaten in personal spaces. At chapter facilities where live-out members have a meal plan, members pick up their meal from the back patio or another safe area of the house.

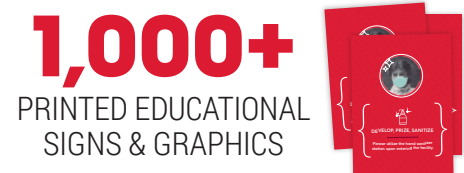

"As the chef, I have a responsibility to make sure members are well fed and being able to stay safe while doing so. Being able to adjust to the changing circumstances has been a challenge that I am glad to take on," said Aaron Armentrout, Head Chef at Alpha Lambda–The Ohio State University.

While we look forward to the return of traditional dining, to the sound of forks scraping plates and members catching up after a long day of class, we are beyond grateful for the work of our local FHC staff.

Like all areas of the Fraternity, the pandemic has had a financial impact on the FHC. By the end of May, more than $1,500,000 of room and board was forgiven. Though chapter homes were empty, expenses continued to climb. In addition to the regular summer maintenance and property upkeep, more than $60,000 of masks, hand sanitizer, signage and special cleaning supplies were purchased and shipped to chapters to ensure best practices were in place by the beginning of the fall term.

Organizations are not only defined by their words but also by their actions—and the FHC is committed to providing the safest possible accommodations for its members. If you live in an FHC chapter home, we hope the Safe on Purpose Campaign provides you comfort knowing you are heard, protected and valued.

by the numbers

PURPOSE

 Safe on Purpose breaks down all aspects of sorority living and outlines FHC recommendations based on the following levels: SAFE, SAFER and SAFEST. Each chapter's Executive Council has the autonomy to determine what level of precaution will be taken in each category to outline it in their Community Agreement. This agreement can be revised at any time depending on the severity of COVID-19 in their community. Locally, collegiate leaders have been empowered to make hard decisions, prioritize safety and hold members accountable for taking care of one another. This campaign consists not only of best practices and recommendations, but also messaging to provide direction to members and reinforce safe behavior.

Utilizing lines of the Purpose and images of our Founders, it reminds members to consider their sisters and others in their community when making decisions. When members see these words and images on signs and other places, we hope they are reminded of their commitment to Alpha Gamma Delta, which will motivate them to make safe, healthy and smart decisions. As always, don't forget to Develop, Prize AND Sanitize!

Journal Prompts for Self-Discovery

Young adults are often criticized for not having a life/career plan in place. So, how do you figure yourself out without trying a billion things that don't work out in the end, leaving you feeling you've wasted time? Well, the answer is simple—and it's not simple.

First, drop the notion that you wasted time trying new things. Having a curious mind and an adventurous spirit is not a crime. In fact, trying new things shows heightened emotional intelligence and resilience. Second, determine your values, then commit to doing things in direct alignment with those values.

If you're still searching for answers, try these journal prompts to get closer to the answer. Write the prompt at the top of your page, set your timer for 2–3 minutes and let the answers flow from your pen.

For Value Discovery

- What makes me feel the most self-respect?
- How do I honor myself?
- Are there behaviors from others that I find disgusting?
- Are there behaviors from others that I find darling?

For Romantic Relationships

- What do I desire from a partner?
- What do I do best for my partner? What do I bring to the table?
- What do I not like in romantic relationships?
- How do I like to engage with my partner? (e.g. how often, calls vs. texts, etc.)
- How do I receive love? How do I show love?

For Monthly Goals

- What wins did I have last month?
- What opportunities do I have for improvement?
- What do I want to accomplish this month?
- Did I try anything new I would like to continue this month?

For Making Major Life Decisions

- What fears do I have about this opportunity?
- What excitement do I have about this opportunity?
- What positive consequences could come from this decision?
- What negative consequences could come from this decision?
- Is this in alignment with my values?

These questions get more specific so you can truly analyze what it is you want. Sometimes it can be hard to dig deeper when we are asked face-value questions like, "What are your values?" By asking ourselves more tangential questions, we can find different avenues we might not have otherwise discovered.

Remember, discovery is a process. You might not get the exact answer today or tomorrow, but the more you ask yourself these questions, you'll get a little closer to your truth. Be empowered and encouraged!

Raise Your Voice

Political television ads, mailers, phone calls, text messages and social media posts seem to have multiplied this election cycle. While the constant reminders from Facebook and Instagram asking you to check your voter registration and countless emails from candidates requesting donations may seem excessive, consider them a reminder that women have not always had the right to vote. In fact, it was a full 16 years after our 1904 founding until the 19th amendment granted women the right to vote. It was another 45 before the Voting Rights Act removed additional barriers that prevented Black and Native American women from voting.

As a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, I challenge you to look at voting in a different way this year and consider our Purpose. After all, when you cast your ballot, you are contributing to the world's work—regardless of political affiliation.

While the presidential election dominates most news cycles these days, it's the results of local elections that can have the greatest effect on your day-to-day life and the lives of your family and friends.

The roads you drive, the air you breathe, your access to equitable healthcare and quality education—all of these things are heavily steered by state and local election outcomes. Even a seemingly small issue like a 1-cent increase in sales tax can have a tremendous effect on your local economy or the vibrancy of your community's culture.

As you cast your ballot this year, I urge you to consider the following:

Take time prior to Election Day to review and research your ballot.

Visit ballotpedia.org to find out who and what will be on your ballot. Ballot measures can be especially confusing and often effect local funding, taxes or amendments to your state constitution, so it's important to learn their intent and explore the possible outcomes.

Verify your voting location. Even if you've voted in the same location for 20 years, it may have changed—especially in light of COVID-19. Visit usa.gov/election-day to find your current polling location and other Election Day information.

Don't let a long line deter you. As polling stations enact enhanced safety measures to limit the further spread of COVID-19, lines will be spaced apart and fewer voting stations may be available. This doesn't necessarily mean it will take long to vote.

Consider early voting. If you feel unsafe or are unable to vote on Election Day, consider voting early. The process is nearly the same, but you will typically have a few more polling locations to choose from and wait times could be shorter. Dates vary by state, so visit vote.org/early-voting-calendar to learn more.

Remember, your vote matters. It's easy to talk yourself out of voting when you feel like your vote doesn't matter. But it does matter. Women's voices matter! We have a real opportunity to effect change—and it begins with a single vote. Use your voice and vote no matter what.

This November, I urge you to—not only vote—but to fill out your entire ballot. Seek candidates with a shared vision for your community. Consider the impact your ballot will have on the community where you are placed. Share your voting plan with another Alpha Gam. And, from one member to another, thank you for doing your part to fulfill our Purpose.

To the Fullest

Alpha Gamma Delta empowers its members to Live with Purpose. Patricia Carey Floren, Delta Eta—San Diego State University, exemplified this call to action. Despite a 20-year battle with breast cancer, Patti—as she was known—lived each day with positivity and intention.

Patti never let her diagnosis slow her down. She was a woman with many devotions—reading, writing, gardening, and Jeopardy, to name just a few. But she found her greatest happiness as a wife, mother, grandmother, and Alpha Gam. She gave herself joyfully in service to others as a teacher, dedicated fraternity volunteer, mentor, and friend. Patti was often lovingly referred to as the “Mayor of Alpha Gam” because there wasn’t an Alpha Gam in the room she didn’t seem to know. She always went out of her way to make others feel included. Her warmth and positivity were magnetic.

Patti entered Chapter Grand in late May, just one day after Founders’ Day, but her legacy lives on through an endowed scholarship established by her Delta Eta chapter sisters. The Patricia Carey Floren Endowed Scholarship is a fitting tribute to a woman who was passionate about education and female empowerment. Patti’s entire life was dedicated to these causes.

“Patti lived the Purpose every day of her life. We all try to do that, but Patti embodied it,” shared Connie Milam, Patti’s pledge sister and best friend. “If I had to pick one line she perfected, it would be ‘To cherish friendships with but a chosen few and to study the perfecting of those friendships.’ Patti had one million friends. And she was always honing those friendships—especially with those of us who were lucky enough to be in her fold.”

Her tireless work for the Fraternity began from the moment she graduated. Serving as a chapter consultant was just the beginning of a lifetime of service to Alpha Gamma Delta, which included serving as International Vice President-Membership from 2001 to 2006.

Passionate about mentoring and providing for others, Patti was at the forefront of many of the fraternity’s important personal development initiatives, including a coaching/mentoring program offered through the fraternity’s Volunteer Development Committee. She was instrumental in establishing the Rose Buds program, a network for

Patricia Carey Floren Endowed Scholarship

Providing an example of strength and passion in all avenues of her life, Patricia Carey Floren, Delta Eta-San Diego State University, generously shared the ideals of Alpha Gamma Delta for over 40 years. From collegian to International Council member, from educator to dedicated wife and mother, Patti brought the Alpha Gamma Delta Purpose to her life demonstrating the ideals of sisterhood, leadership, and boundless contributions to all her activities. Given her life of dedication and passion for education and Alpha Gamma Delta, her legacy of strength and passion are being honored with the establishment of the Patricia Carey Floren Scholarship Endowment.

Alpha Gam mothers, and The Leadership Institute—Women With Purpose, Inc., which helped women achieve their leadership potential.

Patti impacted many other areas of fraternity programming and was integral to the creation of the fraternity’s education committee, which she continued to serve until her passing. Her enduring commitment to Alpha Gamma Delta was evident in her attainment of five of the Honors of Epsilon Pi. (continued on page 30)

Editor’s Note: Last September, I spoke with Patti about highlighting her latest adventure, dragon boat racing, and how she had chosen to LIVE with cancer. After a last-minute decision to make the Spring 2020 issue more collegiate focused, I bumped the article to the fall. While I am so very sad I didn’t realize how little time Patti had left on this earth and didn’t publish this article before she entered Chapter Grand, I am grateful I was able to have that one last conversation with her. Roses to you, Patti.

FROM A JANUARY 2020 FACEBOOK POST

“She shared so many visions and ideas on how to move the Fraternity forward. Her ideas, her love of learning, her love of teaching,” said Wendi Kepner Damico, Delta Beta–Washington State University, who served under Patti on the VST. “She was one of the most positive and uplifting people I’ve ever known. It was an honor to call her sister.”

In addition to her service to Alpha Gamma Delta, Patti loved giving back to her community. She was a loyal supporter of the San Diego School for the Performing arts, the Methodist Church, and the Girl Scouts of America. Patti cared deeply about the value of education and promoting the importance of lifelong learning. She helped instill this idea in the many students she taught in schools throughout San Diego.

Patti’s legacy lives on through her students and the people and causes she championed. She will be remembered by the countless people who loved her for both the many ways in which she contributed to the world’s work as well as for her thoughtful approach to pursuing those passions.

“What do I want people to know about Patti? That she was one in a million—that she loved every minute of her life—that she was a fighter—that she was the consummate Alpha Gam,” Connie said. “Loyal, honest, non-judgmental, supportive, inspiring, and FUN are the words that come to mind. I often wonder what I’m going to do without her.”
